

Top-Trader - Seasonal Spreads in Futures & Options

In Brief

Top-Trader is a recommendation program designed to take advantage of historically high probability seasonal opportunities in a wide range of markets using futures and options spreads. On average, one trade per week is generated and the length of time in each trade is approx. 2-3 weeks. Stop losses are based on closing prices i.e. exits are made the following day if the market closes outside of the stop level.

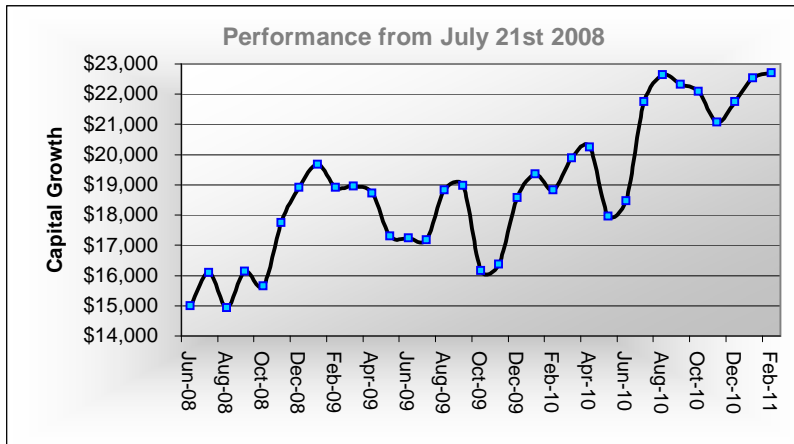

Trader Profile

This program suits those who want to take advantage of opportunities in stock indices, interest rates, currencies and commodities markets. Traders with a relatively high risk tolerance and who also want a degree of involvement in their trading decisions are best suited to this approach. No positions will be entered or exited without prior confirmation from each individual client.
